PITTSBURGH: -- Shattered Glass, (www.shatteredglasspodcast.com), a podcast sharing stories of extraordinary women shattering the glass ceiling, is celebrating their first birthday with a live interview with Meredith Meyer Grelli, owner of Wigle Whiskey and 2018 James Beard Semi Finalist at Wigle Whiskey's distillery in the Strip District.

"Over the past year, we have shared stories of a James Beard Award Winning chef (Jamilka Borges), Allegheny County Controller (Chelsa Wagner), and an advocate for refugees and immigrants (Betty Cruz). Their stories just begin to scratch the surface of the varied, impressive stories of powerful women in leadership" said Monica Hershberger, co-host.

Podcast co-host and Mayor of Wilkinsburg Marita Garrett said, "As a woman in leadership, I'm happy to change our narrative. We deserve more women in leadership. We're going to take our seats at the table and make room for more women in future generations."

Season two guests include NBC This is Us and former Queen Sugar writer, Kay Oyegun (upcoming), 17 year old composer Hannah Ishizaki, and Executive Director of Pittsburgh's Midwife Center, Christine Haas.
